Background:

Council approved the Community Engagement Charter in April 2013. In April of 2014, City Council received the Charter Action Plan developed by the Charter Action Team (ChAT) in consultation with staff, which included tasks to be completed over the upcoming year.

ChAT Composition:

Citizen Members

John Searles, Chris Walker, Bob Elliott, and Margo Shuttleworth

Staff Members

Michelle Dwyer (City Manager's Office), Donna Kell (City Manager's Office), Sean Kenney (Planning and Building until March 2017), Laura Daly (Department of City Building), Denise Beard (Parks and Recreation), Kwab Ako-Adjei (City Manager's Office), Wanda Tolone/Roxanne Gosse/Rebecca McKay (admin support). Jeff Crowder, Sharon Will and Carla Marshall (communication members).

Purpose and Function of ChAT

- Work collaboratively to put in place the Charter Action Plan, aiming to make public involvement part of everyday practice within the City of Burlington
- Provide pre-consultation advice on public involvement issues or opportunities prior to launching a formal public involvement plan or activity
- Provide occasional input on public information before distribution
- Provide advice and insight to the City of Burlington's citizen advisory committees, City Council and staff on city policies, services and programs related to public involvement
- Share information, best practices, trends, opportunities and challenges regarding public involvement
- Promote public involvement to increase the number of residents who take an active interest in city decision-making and can participate in engagement activities when they choose
- Participate in related meetings/training opportunities to stay informed about new and emerging public involvement practices

- Provide input on monitoring and measurement to ensure that the city maximizes public involvement opportunities in its policies, services and projects
- Report annually to Council and the community as to the status of public involvement

In 2017, the ChAT Team:

- Provided on-going support and advice to the Grow Bold team on public engagement
- Attended some of the Grow Bold festivals and events in order to gain public feedback.
- Rolled out Community Engagement Charter plaques at various city buildings
- Met with the City Manager and all seven members of council in order to gain an understanding of what is working, not working and what needs to change in the area of community engagement.
- Held an initial meeting with ChAT support team to discuss how they could contribute to the main team.
- Supported the nomination of the City of Burlington for the IAP2 (International Association for Public Participation) Organization of the Year.
- Provided input for the requirements for an online engagement platform.
- Created a listing of 2018 priorities.

The following is provided to:

- Outline topics that residents were engaged in,
- Outline training and development completed by staff (and in some cases citizens) to support the city's commitment to citizen engagement
- Outline innovative approaches in community engagement used, and finally,
- To capture some of the changes in policy or decisions made due to community engagement.

Topics that residents and stakeholders were engaged in:
--

- Official Plan (O.P.). The O.P. is a statutory document that sets out land use policy to guide growth, land use planning and development approvals in the city.
- Transportation Plan
- Mobility Hub Area Specific Planning Study. The City is preparing secondary plans along with implementation strategies for future growth around the city's three GO Stations and in the Downtown.
- Neighbourhood Development/Development Applications including larger projects like the waterfront hotel site.
- Transit Plan
- Cycling Plan
- Traffic – in many neighbourhoods throughout the city
- Park Revitalization – throughout the city
- Pop Up Patios
- Tall building guidelines
- Fire Prevention and Public Education across the city
- Playground equipment – throughout the city
- Tree removal program - Emerald Ash Borer (informing)
- Online Engagement Platform
- Community Matching Funds
- Playground equipment/park alternation to include children with special needs
- Love My Hood – more than 150 community events occurred in 2017.
- Road projects – throughout the city
- Public Art; including cultural nodes, Canada 150 mural, public art mater plan review and an open call for public art jury roster
- Skate Park (North Burlington)

- Flooding/storm water (throughout the city)
- Environment/climate change
- Design and Construction of playground in Aldershot (KaBoom project)
- 2018 Budget
- Youth friendly designation
- Coyotes and living with urban wildlife
- Public pathway in the Downtown
- Burloak underpass (in conjunction with Metrolinx)
- Grade separations
- Community Hubs
- Healthy Food in City of Burlington owned facilities
- Healthy kids initiative, youth wellness
- Sport user groups
- Sports Fields Cultural Practices
- City programs and services
- Parks and recreation rates and fees
- Parks and Recreation programs

- Ward specific meetings held by councillors dealing with issues/topics such as; planning and development proposals/applications, traffic calming, budget, road/creek/park improvements, intensification, building heights, Mobility Hub planning, community matching funds, playgrounds, bike lanes, the Official Plan, community safety, transit, noise, stormwater/flooding etc.

Training and Development completed by staff and citizens

- IAP2 (International Association for Public Participation) Decision Makers training offered to Burlington Leadership Team (the city's senior staff).
- IAP2 Refresher Training offered to staff and citizen members of ChAT. The training focused on; decision statements, planning and preparation for public meetings, creating a civil dialogue space and building consensus.
- Workshop offered in partnership with Tamarack Institute and the City of Burlington. Workshop focused on the power and impact of citizen leadership in the development of resilient, caring neighbourhoods and communities. Attendees included community leaders, volunteers, ChAT and staff.
- "100 in 1" facilitator training. This is a global movement where on the first Saturday in June, a community strives to have 100 community activities happening in order to create a sense of community. The community decides what activities they want to see happen, examples could be; tree planting, yoga in a park, a street party, community BBQ etc.
- Media Training offered to staff. Relationship-building media training for staff who are spokespeople at City Council or behalf of the city with the media.
- Innovation in a Box using the i5 process offered to staff. Innovation in a Box is an easy to use innovation approach that equips everyday people and teams with a structured process and practical tools to tackle their pressing challenges and deliver value-adding ideas.
- Presenting with Ease offered to staff. Training focuses on better communication and engaging presentations with audiences.
- Clear language training offered to staff. Using plain, clear language is an expectation and part of the Community Engagement Charter.
- Toastmasters club created for City of Burlington staff to help employees feel more confident and comfortable making presentations in front of an audience.
- The City of Burlington hosted the Annual General Meeting for the Great Lakes Chapter of the International Association for Public Participation (IAP2). The keynote speaker was Ojibway storyteller Aaron Bell, who shared some valuable

First Nations' perspectives. Other municipal and private sector engagement professionals also attended and shared best practices.

- Grant writing workshop for sport user groups to assist in the process of submitting grant proposals for funding.

INNOVATIVE COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT APPROACHES USED IN 2017/Q1 2018

- New online engagement platform to roll out in Q2 of 2018. This innovative platform includes surveys, quick polls, budget allocator, mapping tool, forums, story telling and idea tool.
- Telephone Town hall to engage on the 2018 proposed budget. This allowed residents to learn about and ask questions regarding the budget from the comfort of their home. This resulted in 810 people participating and 64 people submitting questions.
- Reverse Town Hall meeting held by Mayor Goldring. An opportunity for residents to share their views with the Mayor and to ask questions.
- First ever Facebook Live with Mayor Goldring. This allowed people to connect with the city from a location convenient to them. The video is recorded to allow for viewing at any time
- Members of council regularly use social media such as Twitter, Facebook, Instagram and LinkedIn to engage with residents. Council also uses electronic newsletters to inform and engage residents.
- Use of a new tool "Feedback Frames" for anonymous voting on ideas. These have been used at community events and meetings to obtain feedback.
- Use of RetroViewers to show concepts to residents. Used for the Grow Bold initiative to show the community what a parcel of land currently looks like and what it could look like once re-developed.
- Bolus Gardens Parkette playground concept, design and construction included residents, the BIA (Aldershot Business Improvement Area) and KaBoom! Design of the playground included input from area children, parents, KaBoom! Staff and city staff. Volunteers and staff built the playground.
- Group Workbooks used for Official Plan, Transportation Plan and Cycling Plan. This is a guided conversation that can be completed by one person or a large group. Workbooks developed to collect feedback on the draft new downtown precinct plan as part of the Downtown Area Specific Planning process. The workbook included information and graphics, and was distributed at workshops, open houses and was also available in an online format.

- Grow/Go Bold out at numerous events including; Farmers Market, Sound of Music, Canada Day, streetfest, parks, malls, community centres, coffee shops etc. The idea is to go to where people already gather.
- Walking Tours occurred for the topics of downtown/tall buildings and the Downtown Mobility Hub proposed precinct plan, Jane's Walks hosted by members of council and the P2H (People and Places in Halton) program. Ward 1 Councillor has also conducted driving tours.
- Community Support Programs: include the Neighbourhood Matching Fund, Love My Hood and Neighbourhood Rinks are all programs that have been designed to support community engagement and support community initiatives. In 2017, more than 150 Love My Hoods were held, 14 backyard rinks were a reality and 7 Neighborhood Matching Fund projects occurred.
- Pop Ups occurred when engaging on Mobility Hubs planning and Cycling Plan. Engagement opportunities that pop up at various locations throughout the city.
- Interactive online mapping used for topics such as the Cycling Plan and Public Art. This allowed residents to place a "pin" on a map and to include feedback along with the pin.
- P2H Program (People and Places in Halton) is a program in partnership with the City of Burlington, the Region of Halton and the Halton District School Board. The city of Burlington went into grade 9 classes at Hayden, Aldershot and Nelson High Schools to inform and engage with students on topics such as – the strategic plan, city building/OP, transit, transportation, environment, communication and engagement etc. The students are able to make connections within their community and shared some great ideas with the City.
- Goosechase contests used in youth engagement
- Pilot project in ward one called "Home Adaption Assessment Program" which is a partnership with the University of Waterloo with a purpose of educating residents about flooding and how to avoid basement flooding.
- Use of "Remind App" which sends subscribers text messages (used in the youth area)
- "Ask a Planner" events. These were drop-in sessions where residents could ask questions about the draft new Official Plan.

- Urban Design Panel. Call for residents to be on a panel that advises council on design standards for development.
- 150+ Love My Hood events in the year of 2017 (Canada's 150). These events strengthen neighbourhoods and build community.
- Fire Chief for the day – contest for those students that submitted a fire escape plan (education, prevention and awareness).
- Healthy Kids Contest was held. Healthy snacking information on this initiative was shared with coaches, parents and youth.
- School tour program in grade 5 civics class – 11 tours of City Hall and an interactive mock council chamber meeting.
- Use of television screens at local Tim Horton's regarding the Grow Bold (OP) plan
- Mayor's Seniors Housing Task Force and Mayor's Millennial Advisory Committee (for those ages 18 – 35 years). Both help to create dialogue and solutions.
- Inviting children to take part in playground survey.
- Creating a "party" atmosphere to get people involved and engaged, used for Mobility Hubs Study launch.
- Electronic voting using "clickers" at various meetings in order to obtain immediate feedback on survey questions. Topics where clickers were used include; Mobility Hubs study, traffic, transportation, development applications, public art, P2H program, Business Intelligence etc.
- Neighbourhood Advisory Committees have been organized by some members of council to gather input from residents about a variety of topics.

Creation of 5 Ask Grow Bold videos on the topics of;

- Why are we planning to grow?
- Can we expand roads to make room for more traffic as we grow?
- Learn more about amendments to the Downtown Precinct Plan
- How did the city come to a decision to approve the development proposal at 421 Brant St. for a 23-storey building?
- Why do we need 20 plus story buildings in Burlington?

Engagement on the Official Plan

As evidenced earlier in this appendix, there was considerable engagement with the community on a variety of topics. The most extensive engagement occurred around the draft new Official Plan and Mobility Hubs studies. The following is a comprehensive break down of the engagement that occurred regarding the OP and Mobility Hubs Study areas.

Considerable engagement and communications occurred in 2017 and early 2018 developing the Official Plan (Grow Bold initiative). For 2017, there were two main rounds of public consultation.

The draft new Official Plan (OP), sets Burlington's vision to 2031 and beyond, was released in April 2017 and was followed by three months of public engagement. In November 2017, Burlington's proposed new Official Plan was released, which contained a number of revisions based on feedback received on the draft new OP (April 2017). Three Open Houses and a Statutory Public meeting were held in November 2017 to receive feedback on the proposed new OP. A series of council meetings were also held in January and early February to allow for further consultation. In February 2018, the proposed new OP (February 2018 version) was released, which contained revisions based on feedback received at the November 2017 Statutory Public Meeting, January 2018 public meeting and through written submissions. Three Open Houses and a second Statutory Public Meeting were held in February 2018 to receive further feedback on the proposed new OP (February 2018). At the time of writing this report, staff is reviewing the feedback received, and a staff report recommending adoption of the new Official Plan is scheduled for April 2018.

Changes made due to public engagement:

- Considerable changes were made to the draft new Official Plan based on public, agency, stakeholder and council feedback. A tracked changes version was released and brought to Committee on February 27, 2018. (See Report PB-14-18 and appendices A-D).
- Each stage of engagement helped to inform the development of a preferred concept for each Mobility Hub.

- Requirements for the online engagement platform RFP (Request for Proposals) occurred based on input from staff and the ChAT Team. As a result, the new online engagement platform includes the functionality and analytics required.
- Playground design for the Bolus Parkette is a direct result of resident's input. Residents and the community also helped to build the playground with the help of KaBoom!
- Traffic calming measures throughout the city based on resident input.
- Public input has a great influence in park revitalization decisions and design.
- Feedback from the city's citizen advisory committees is used to influence policy and practices. The citizen committees are:
 - Burlington Cycling Committee
 - Burlington Accessibility Advisory Committee
 - Burlington Inclusivity Advisory Committee
 - Burlington Integrated Transportation Advisory Committee
 - Heritage Advisory Committee
 - Burlington Mundialization Committee
 - Committee of Adjustment
 - Audit Standing Committee
- Citizen Committees were invited to participate in various stages of the Official Plan. Citizen Committees submit annual reports to committee; their achievements are found within these reports.
- 14 neighbourhood rinks
- Changes to design of some proposed developments based on community feedback.
- Community Matching Fund projects
- Playground equipment alteration for children with special needs based on feedback
- Parks and Recreation regularly makes changes and enhancements to programs based on feedback.
- Skateboard Park location (North Burlington) based on input
