

Term	As Defined in Framework
Framework	The necessary structure needed to support decision making, planning, service delivery and the daily operation.
Fundamental	Basic, beginner, entry level, general interest and foundational as related to recreational based experiences. These are the building blocks for more complex and specialized skills.
Joint Venture	Any combination of resources by two or more persons, corporations, collaborative relationships, or some combination thereof, whereby each agrees to contribute money, knowledge, skills, land/property to conduct an initiative together. The City of Burlington's Joint Venture Framework addresses major projects such as the development of new facilities, major renovations to existing facilities and a variety of financing options for program providers. The City might have complete, partial or no ongoing responsibility for facility maintenance, capital repair and asset preservation, hence, the City's risk rests with the ownership of the physical asset. Joint Venture Agreements can allow significant freedom to operate or be very detailed about limits.
Market	The market represents the broader community and their interests.
Recreation	Recreation is an activity of leisure. Leisure is free time. The "need to do something for recreation" is an essential element of human biology and psychology. Recreational activities are often done for enjoyment, amusement, or pleasure and are "fun".
Recreation Landscape	All recreation experiences provided across the City by all providers.
Round Table	A round table is a collective group of individuals coming together for a common interest. Typically, round tables are facilitated by City staff and would include representation from a group focused on a specific initiative.
Socio-economic status	Socio-economic status is an economic and sociological combined total measure of a person's work experience and of an individual's or family's economic and social position in relation to others, based on income, education, and occupation.
Sponsorships	A sponsorship is a type of relationship whereas there is an exchange of money, products and/or services in return for a commercial benefit. A formal sponsorship agreement is typically associated with this type of arrangement.
Participation Fees	Participation Fees are Council approved rates a consumer would pay for. Examples include membership fees, program registration fees, rental fees, licensing fees, rent and drop-in fees.
