NEWS

BURLINGTON, ON

Rory Nisan, a candidate for the ward 3 seat released a statement Tuesday evening saying he "was made aware by the City of Burlington on Monday afternoon that there could be an issue with the raffle held at a community barbecue" he hosted on Sunday, September 9.

Nisan also said: "It quickly became clear to me that I had made a mistake by holding a raffle without a permit.

"I regret this error.

"I have reached out to the City to find out how best to rectify the situation. I have also voluntarily cancelled the raffle and have already returned almost all contributions and am in the process of contacting the raffle participants to provide refunds.

"As far as corporate donations are concerned, the 2018

Candidates Guide for Ontario Municipal Council and School Board Elections states on p. 23 that vendors may make personal contributions of goods and services.

"Also, returning an ineligible contribution is the correct response (p.20-21) should one be received. After discussing with the city and the province, I am convinced that there is no corporate donation being made to my campaign.

"I look forward to resolving the issue of the permit by-law soon."

Nisan sees the error as minor and that the matter is now closed.
