Subject: 127 Plains Road West

Hello Jaclyn

You are having a meeting tomorrow so wanted to submit my comments prior.

I believe that 24 storeys is excessive, especially considering that the buildings across the road are only 14 storeys. Approving this proposal could set a precedent for future building heights in the area.

And with the 11 storey unit going in next door at 141/147/153 Plains Road West, the combined impact of both projects would likely result in significant additional traffic, which could be detrimental to the neighbourhood.

While it's clear that Aldershot is evolving and progress is inevitable, a 24-storey building feels out of scale for this area.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter.
